

Andrew Card

Consultant

Contact

andrew.card@nera.com

Washington, DC: +1 202 466 3510

Andrew Card is a Consultant in NERA's Communications, Media, and Internet Practice. Mr. Card has over a decade of experience in antitrust economics, with a particular focus on class certification issues, market definition, and econometric analyses of common impact and damages. Mr. Card's antitrust experience includes the economic analysis of monopsony, price fixing and collusion, predatory pricing and share-based rebates, and metered price discrimination. He has supported clients across a wide range of industries, including airlines, pharmaceuticals, health care, internet and media, and consumer products. Mr. Card has also authored white papers and performed cost-benefit analyses for a variety of clients, including broadcasters, cable and satellite providers, music producers, the NFL, and the NCAA.

Education

BA in mathematics, Duke University

Practice Areas

Communications, Media, and Internet

About NERA

NERA Economic Consulting (www.nera.com) is a global firm of experts dedicated to applying economic, finance, and quantitative principles to complex business and legal challenges. For over half a century, NERA's economists have been creating strategies, studies, reports, expert testimony, and policy recommendations for government authorities and the world's leading law firms and corporations. With its main office in New York City, NERA serves clients from more than 25 offices across North America, Europe, and Asia Pacific.