

Dr. James Cooper

Affiliated Academic

Contact

james.cooper.affiliate@nera.com

Washington, DC: +1 202 466 3510

Dr. James Cooper is an Associate Professor of Law and the Director of the Program on Economics & Privacy, and George Mason University's Antonin Scalia Law School, where he has been a faculty member since 2012. Dr. Cooper recently took leave to serve as Deputy Director for Economics Analysis in the Federal Trade Commission's Bureau of Consumer Protection (BCP) from 2018-2019, and earlier in his career had served as Acting Director of the FTC's Office of Policy Planning (OPP), and an Advisor to Federal Trade Commissioner William Kovacic.

In his various roles at the FTC, Dr. Cooper advised the Commission on a variety of issues involving consumer protection and competition enforcement and policy matters. During his tenure in BCP, Dr. Cooper provided analysis on enforcement matters involving advertising, marketing, privacy, and data security, and acted as liaison between BCP and the FTC's Bureau of Economics. While heading OPP, Dr. Cooper was in charge of the FTC's competition advocacy program.

His research on privacy, consumer protection, and competition policy have appeared in top law reviews and law & economics journals such as the Journal of Law & Economics, International Review of Law & Economics, Journal of Regulatory Economics, and the Antitrust Law Journal. Dr. Cooper lectures widely on economic analysis of competition and consumer protection policy, participates frequently in public policy conferences, and presents original research in a wide variety of forums

Education

PhD in economics, Emory University

JD, magna cum laude, George Mason University

BA in international relations, University of South Carolina

Publications

- Report on the Digital Economy

Practice Areas

Antitrust and Competition

Class Actions and Class Certification

About NERA

NERA Economic Consulting (www.nera.com) is a global firm of experts dedicated to applying economic, finance, and quantitative principles to complex business and legal challenges. For over half a century, NERA's economists have been creating strategies, studies, reports, expert testimony, and policy recommendations for government authorities and the world's leading law firms and corporations. With its main office in New York City, NERA serves clients from more than 25 offices across North America, Europe, and Asia Pacific.