Dr. Veronica Postal is a Senior Consultant in NERA’s Antitrust and Competition Practice, based in White Plains, NY. Dr. Postal has examined the competitive effects of proposed mergers and acquisitions and has evaluated liability and damages in antitrust litigation cases involving price fixing, class-certification, and consumer pricing. Her experience spans a number of industries, including the health insurance, airline, and automotive. Dr. Postal previously conducted research for the International Monetary Fund and Harvard Business School.

Education
PhD in economics, University of Minnesota
MA in International and development economics, Yale University
MSc in political science and political economy, with distinction, London School of Economics and Political Science
Bachelor’s Degree in International economics and management, cum laude, Università Bocconi

Publications
• Can Self-Preferencing Algorithms Be Pro-Competitive?

Practice Areas
Antitrust and Competition

Languages
English, Italian

About NERA
NERA Economic Consulting (www.nera.com) is a global firm of experts dedicated to applying economic, finance, and quantitative principles to complex business and legal challenges. For over half a century, NERA’s economists have been creating strategies, studies, reports, expert testimony, and policy recommendations for government authorities and the world’s leading law firms and corporations. With its main office in New York City, NERA serves clients from more than 25 offices across North America, Europe, and Asia Pacific.