Patrick McGervey works across the communications, media, and internet industries. He conducts economic analyses of issues related to regulation, intellectual property rights, consumer protection, and competition to support clients involved in regulatory proceedings, arbitration, complex litigation, merger reviews, and public policy debates.

Mr. McGervey has supported clients in a variety of venues, including royalty rate-setting proceedings at the Copyright Royalty Board; litigation in state and US federal court; Section 337 investigations at the US International Trade Commission; merger reviews at the US Department of Justice, Federal Communications Commission (FCC), and state public utility commissions; and reviews of regulations at the FCC and Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission.

Education

MS in applied economics, University of Maryland, College Park
BA in economics and philosophy, Boston College

Practice Areas

Commercial Litigation and Damages
Communications, Media, and Internet
Intellectual Property
International Arbitration
Regulatory Economics

About NERA

NERA Economic Consulting (www.nera.com) is a global firm of experts dedicated to applying economic, finance, and quantitative principles to complex business and legal challenges. For over half a century, NERA’s economists have been creating strategies, studies, reports, expert testimony, and policy recommendations for government authorities and the world’s leading law firms and corporations. With its main office in New York City, NERA serves clients from more than 25 offices across North America, Europe, and Asia Pacific.